The game wase vidently regarded as a gala occasion by the inhabitants of Orange. At least 3,000 of them turned out and in all their finery to see the contest. The usual quota of pretty girls were on hand with theid dudish escorts. The majority wore big, yellow chrysanthemums as an evidence of their loyalty to old Nassau. The teams came on the field at 10,30 and lined up in this order:

The game began with the ball in Orange's possession. They worked the V for fifteen yards. They falled to gain on the next two downs and Marshall punted. A Princeton man got the ball, but the Tigers and lost it on a fumble.

Fields went through Princeton's line for ten yards. Princeton got the ball on downs. Burt punted beautifully. Fielder got the ball and ran twenty yards before Ward downed him. Orange was outplaying Princeton at this stage. Princeton then began sending Ward around the ends and against the line, but made but little headway. Princeton's playing was loose. For the next fifteen minutes the battle was waged around the middle of the field. The Orange left end, got hurt and kyle took his place.

Burt did some fine purchased the Orange left end, got hurt and Kyle took his place.

C. game will be one-sided, of course, and it is only a question of how few touchdowns and goals Yale may be permitted to score by the winged-foot contingent. Still the contest cannot fall of being immensely instruction to a great many football aharps who will be on hand to gauge Yale's strength and the nicety of her trick work.

The New Haven team will not have Capt. Hinkey's valuable services, as he is in Pennslyvania at the funeral of his aunt. Frank Butterworth takes his place as captain and plays fullback. The winged-foot eleven is not a half-bad one by any means. They ought to make it occasionally warm for the Blues. The teams will line up in this
